

Murder in the library

There's been a murder in the library. Vic Tim has been strangled with a stethoscope. Police have several suspects and luckily there were witnesses who caught a glimpse of the perpetrator. Sadly, witness statements don't always match. Can you work out who dunnit from the clues?

Suspects:

Witness statements

Marilyn, Library Assistant

“I was tidying the books at the time so only caught a quick glimpse of someone. I think the killer had short hair, at least...not below their shoulders. I would have seen that”.

Ahmed, Student

“The murderer went past me in the doorway. It was so quick. Hair colour... yes I could only see the back of their head, but very clearly. Definitely dark hair. Well, er, not blonde, anyway”.

Jo, Cardiac Surgeon

“The murderer was definitely a man, and he had brown suede shoes if that helps at all. I do love shoes”.

Chris, Estates Team

He definitely DID have a beard. I was really scared, to tell you the truth”.

Robert, Senior Manager

“I do remember noticing that the killer was not wearing a hospital uniform. Other than that, well they weren't wearing a blue or red top. I would have remembered”.

David, Health Care Assistant

“Well, I looked up from the computer when I heard the scream. That poor chap being killed right behind me! I am positive the murderer did NOT have glasses but, beyond that... well I am not very good with faces”.
